

PRMT5 and MAT2A are pan-essential across sarcoma lines

PRMT5 and MAT2A are dependencies in almost every sarcoma line, so growth inhibition on silencing them is expected and is not specific to this disease; only an effect on fusion-driven transcription would be. MTAP is not a dependency, consistent with its role as a biomarker rather than a target. No EMC line is present in this panel, so every value is inferred from other sarcomas.