

A set score means nothing until an arbitrary set of the same size is scored too

Grey histogram = 4,000 random gene sets of exactly the observed size, drawn from the platform's own symbols and scored identically.

